Which kit, and when

You don't have to do all five at once. Each kit has its own folder in your download with a guide (PDF) and a spreadsheet. Here's the order most people get the most from.

1. The Bill Cut Kit · one evening
   Find every recurring charge, cut what you don't use, and lower the bills you keep with word-for-word scripts. It frees up money for everything that follows.

2. The 20-Minute Budget · one evening, then 20 minutes a week
   Bills, savings and goals on autopilot; everything else is one weekly spending number. This is the engine the other kits run on.

3. The Credit Report Audit Kit · about 90 minutes
   Pull all three reports free, find and dispute errors, freeze your credit. Do it before applying for any loan, card or apartment.

4. The Debt-Free Date Planner · 45 minutes, then 5 minutes a month
   If you have debt: put a date on it, choose avalanche or snowball, and check whether a balance transfer or consolidation loan would help.

5. Start Investing With $100 a Month · an hour to read, 30 minutes to set up
   Once high-interest debt is handled and you have a cushion: which account first, what to buy, fees, and automation.

YOUR FIRST MONTH

A 30-day plan using all five

About an hour a week. By day 30, your money runs on a system instead of willpower.

Week	Do this	Kit
Week 1	Audit every recurring charge. Cut, downgrade, and make two negotiation calls. Decide where the savings go.	Bill Cut Kit
Week 2	Set up the budget: bills, sinking funds, goals and your weekly number. Automate the transfers. Do your first 20-minute check-in.	20-Minute Budget
Week 3	Pull all three credit reports. Freeze your credit. Send disputes for any errors. Fill in the Utilization tab.	Credit Report Audit Kit
Week 4	If you have debt, enter it in the planner and set up the extra payment. If not, or once you have a cushion, open (or check) your retirement account and automate it.	Debt-Free Date Planner or Start Investing
Day 30	Monthly reset of the budget (20 minutes). Log your debt balance on the Progress tab. Put the next six-month bill audit in your calendar.	All

How the spreadsheets connect

- The Summary tab in the Bill Cut Tracker tells you how much per month you freed up. Put that into the Goals section of the 20-Minute Budget.
- The 20-Minute Budget's extra debt payment is the number you type into Extra per month in the Debt-Free Date Planner. (The budget has a simple payoff comparison built in; the planner adds up to 10 debts, a custom order, transfer and consolidation checks, and progress tracking.)
- When the Debt-Free Date Planner shows your last payoff, move that whole monthly amount into the investing kit's Growth tab and see what it becomes.
